

Why Swiss Navy?

Formulas You Can Trust

The U.S. Food & Drug Administration (FDA) is responsible for protecting public health and has designated lubricants as Class II medical devices.

For lubricants, the 510k FDA registration process means the lube has been thoroughly reviewed and declared safe and effective.

Using a lubricant that hasn't been approved by the FDA may be unsafe.

FYI: Only lubricants that have FDA clearance can use the title of LUBRICANT.
